HARDING GOES TO THE CAPITAL FOR NEW REGIME

On to Washington

"I am going to my work with the confidence that all will be well. I believe in the security of this American people. I believe the heart of American citizenship is right."—From the president elect to his Marion fellow citizens.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Mr. Harding, accompanied by Mrs. Harding, left for Washington at 1:30 o'clock today. The president-elect and his wife will arrive at the White House at 1:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon and will stay at the White House until the inauguration on Friday.

A special trainload of Marionites will follow Mr. Harding to Washington tomorrow, and the White House door will swing open to them Friday afternoon.

The ceremony at the Harding front porch on Mount Vernon avenue this morning was remarkable for its simplicity and dignity. There were no bands. Little cheering was heard. By thousands the people silently thronged to the house through the mud, under threatening gray skies. Each appeared to have a sense of the dignity of the event impending in the life of his fellow citizen.

Religious Note Prevails.

The occasion was the presentation of silver plates from the people to Mr. and Mrs. Harding. Mrs. Harding, in blue with hat and veil, and a broad band of velvet around her neck, stood beside the president-elect, putting her handskerchief to her eyes with great frequency.

The presentation speech was made by the Rev. T. H. McAfee, Mr. Harding's pastor. The president-elect took occasion to utter a promise to the people. In a sense it was a little promise ceremony.

"I promise you," Mr. Harding told the fellow townsmen and the old associates who stood by him on the porch, "just as I am ready to promise to America, that I mean to serve in good conscience to the best of my ability."

Confident of Support.

"I would like to say to you neighbors and friends that I am going to my work with the confidence that all will be well. I believe in the security of this American republic; I believe the heart of American citizenship is right; I believe that the hundred millions of Americans will be back of a right minded executive just as cordially as you speak your friendship to me here to-day."

"I shall never be prouder in all my life, than to supply this kindly feeling within myself to the inauguration of a spirit of nation wide good will in this republic."

In God He Trusts.

Though I may not always be the man I want you to know that in my heart is a reverence for Almighty God. I believe that He has his part in directing the destinies of this free people. I trust Him to know of our trust in Him, and trusting in Him, with confidence in ourselves, we have no concern for the future of this republic."

Mr. Harding paid a visit to the Star line and said good-by to his employees and fellow newspaper workers for three days on page 5, column 3.

Association of Commerce Backs Opera

New York, March 2.—[Special.]—George M. Spangler, business manager of the Chicago Opera company, tonight announced definitely that the Chicago Association of Commerce is to underwrite the 1921-22 season of opera in Chicago. His announcement also stated that the salaries of all members of the company except Mary Garden, Galli-Curci, and Muratore had been cut.

"In some instances the new contracts call for as much as 50 per cent reduction in the stellar group. Others were persuaded to accept 20 to 25 per cent cuts," the statement reads.

"Our artists have accepted the explanation that if the Chicago Opera association is to live and prosper after next year, it will be because it is being conducted on a logical business basis."

Sponsors' Guarantee to End.

"At the conclusion of the tour which begins with the close of the New York season this week," Mr. Spangler continued, "we are going back to Chicago to begin planning for what must follow the termination of the Chicago Opera association's sponsors' guarantee at the end of the 1921-22 season.

"It is my plan, with the backing of the Chicago Association of Commerce, to have the opera association underwritten by 500 to 1,000 responsible business men, who will undertake to do what Mr. McCormick and a little handful of other patriotic Chicagoans have been doing heretofore almost unaided. If its guarantors are numbered by the hundreds, so will its boosters be numbered.

"It is our purpose to democratize the opera and put it within the reach of every one; in a word, to discourage the thought that if one doesn't happen to own a dress suit he has no business at grand opera."

Miss Garden Seeks New Talent.

Miss Garden is trying out singers here to fill the gap created by Mme. Galli-Curci's decision to go with the Metropolitan company at the close of her December and January appearances in Chicago. Miss Mary McCormick, a Chicago girl, is one of two promising prospects.

"The Chicago season will be ten weeks, beginning on Nov. 14," Mr. Spangler announced. "It will be followed by five or six weeks in New York at the Manhattan Opera house. Subsequently the company will go on tour. The length of the tour and its itinerary are in tentative stage."

Mme. Galli-Curci will be heard in December and the first three weeks in January.

$47,500,000 TO BE SPENT HERE ON 'WHITE COAL'

BY ARTHUR M. EVANS.

Construction of an electric generating plant to cost ultimately $25,000,000 is about to be launched by the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois. It was disclosed yesterday that a tract of some ninety acres has been bought on the lake shore just north of Waukegan, as a site for a plant with an ultimate capacity of 200,000 kilowatts.

Work is soon to be started on the first two units of 20,000 kilowatts each. This initial part of the electric factory will cost between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000, and it is expected to be time next year.

Waukegan was picked as a site because of the abundance of good water—the condensers use a tremendous amount of water—and because of the rail connections with lines tapping the coal fields, water and fuel being the two main factors.

Another Plant in Calumet.

At the Calumet river and One Hundred and Tenth street, too, a new plant of the Commonwealth Edison company, now under construction, is expected to be furnishing current some time next fall. Two units of 30,000 kilowatts each are being installed, at a cost said to be estimated at $7,500,000.

The ultimate capacity of this plant is placed at 180,000 kilowatts, so that when completed in a period of years, depending upon demand and also upon the investment market, it would represent an investment of perhaps $22,500,000.

Electric power lines have been ramifying until the middle west is covered with network systems of wires getting current from many sources and directions.

Vast 'Electric Belt.'

The "electric belt" of the Mississippi valley, as industry terms it, is now so linked up that if 110 more miles of transmission wire were put in St. Paul and Minneapolis would be connected with Chicago, St. Louis, and Louisville. The missing links in the belt are seventy-eight miles between La Crosse and Reedsburg, Wis., twenty miles between Walworth, Wis., and Harvard, Ill., and twelve miles between Champaign and Paxton, Ill.

The erection of one hydro-electric plant in central Kentucky would add to the belt. The length of the tour and its itinerary are in tentative stage.

Mme. Galli-Curci will be heard in December and the first three weeks in January.

Economical Use of Power.

Linked transmission is heralded as accomplishing the most economical use of power and distribution of current. For instance, a water power development company has more current than consumers. It cuts in on a wire of a large property and shoots along its surplus "juice," measured, of course. Thus waste is cut down.

Kokuk dam lights St. Louis and also by selling current to the McKinley system, runs interurban cars through scores of central Illinois communities.

A power development at Prairie du Sac of the Wisconsin River Power company furnishes current for street cars in Milwaukee and in Rockford and other northern Illinois cities.

The use of "white coal" has grown so rapidly that to the ordinary observer it is quite startling to learn from the statisticians that at present almost two-thirds of the horse power used in industry in Chicago is taken from the power wires.

WHITE HOUSE CELLAR, STOCKED IN 1917, SPOILS FOR VICTOR

Washington, D. C., March 2.—[Special.]—Along with the other privileges of the presidency, Warren G. Harding may inherit whatever there is in the White House wine cellar, for President Wilson has not requested permission to transport any. What there is in the cellar, only the president and Mrs. Wilson and the housekeeper know—and they won't tell.

The wine cellars were completely stocked in 1917. None has been used since 1918.

Several cabinet officers admit frankly they have stocks of liquor they are going to remove to their homes when they leave Washington, but only two have applied for permits to transport liquors. They are Secretary of War Baker and Postmaster General Burleson.

THEATERS GROW LAX ON FIRE LAW—FITZMORRIS

Lax enforcement of the fire ordinances at theaters, especially movies, may result any day in another Iroquois disaster. Chief of Police Fitzmorris said yesterday in a letter to Fire Marshal O'Connor.

The fire marshal referred the letter to John C. McDonnell, chief of the department's bureau of fire prevention and public safety. Mr. McDonnell said he has not enough men to guard the 500 theaters in the city.

"The failure of theater managers to observe the fire laws is a damnable practice," Chief McDonnell added. "It is not only a violation of law but a violation of trust and a sin against humanity as well."

Prohibition, which has resulted in increased attendance at theaters, is responsible for some of the overcrowding which managers are permitting, John F. Cullerton, business manager of the fire department, said.

"As a citizen having a clear and poignant recollection of the Iroquois disaster, I can't help worrying over the manner in which motion picture houses all over town are disregarding the fire laws with reference to keeping their exits unlocked and unobstructed," Chief Fitzmorris wrote.

"At one theater I recently found only one of the four main entrance doors unlocked, although 300 people were inside. At another all but two exits were barred when the last audience started to leave."

"At a third theater I have observed all the exits filled, until absolute congestion results at the ends of aisles. The same thing is true at a hundred other theaters. The reason for the practice is obvious. Congestion outside discourages patronage of passersby who will not join the waiting crowd."

Soviet Troops Quell Revolt in Petrograd

BULLETIN.

STOCKHOLM, March 2.—The Russian soviet authorities have quelled the revolt in Petrograd after bringing troops from the front, according to a special dispatch from Helsinki.

RIGA, Latvia, March 2.—[By the Associated Press.]—According to a Moscow report received here the commissary for labor and defense has published a proclamation signed by Nikolai Lenin promising that the government will use all the means at its disposal to supply the destitute working population with the necessities of life.

A special fund of 10,000,000 gold rubles will be donated for this purpose and the commissary of trade instructed to send abroad a commission for the purchase of required supplies.

The Moscow newspapers also published a proclamation issued by the Moscow soviet—addressed to "all workers, peasants, and members of the Red army—honest citizens"—asserting that the Red army has triumphed on all fronts.

Soviet Blames Socialists.

It accuses the Socialists of being corrupt agents of the Russian aristocracy and capitalists and foreign bankers of trying anew to conquer Russia by hunger in organizing a Cossack revolt in Siberia and disturbances in the Ukraine in order to prevent the transport of supplies to various centers.

Entente agents are charged with complicity and one of the French agents has been arrested in Petrograd, it is asserted. The soviet asks the population to arrest agitators who try to organize demonstrations near Red army barracks.

What Metal Workers Told Lenin.

The proclamations are considered here official recognition of the trouble which started three weeks ago when, at a meeting of metal workers, Lenin was accused of torturing workers and ruining Russia.

When Lenin asked the metal workers whether they would prefer the former czarist regime, they are reported to have exclaimed:

"Let come who may—whites, blacks, or devils themselves—just you clear out."

London Gets Conflicting Reports.

LONDON, March 2.—Reports received in official British circles today confirm dispatches telling of an anti-soviet rising in Russia. They state all the latest official news received, however, did not indicate that the soviet government had lost control.

In the face of these rumors, the Russian trade delegation announced that it was communicating direct with Moscow, and that it was authorized to deny the rumors of a revolution in Russia. These, it was declared, were false and were "started for political purposes or in the interest of stock exchanges."

The wireless press here received three routine news dispatches this morning from Moscow, none of which made mention of any trouble there.

Uprisings Admitted.

STOCKHOLM, March 2.—The latest dispatches received here from Helsinki assert that the insurrection in Petrograd was crushed after severe fighting and that the city is now quiet, with the soviet masters of the situation.

The sailors at Kronstadt remain neutral, supporting neither the workers nor the government.

The dispatches add that the soviet movement has been unable to conceal the fact of the spread of the counter-revolutionary movement throughout the country, and that M. Kalinin, president of the extraordinary commission, has been obliged to admit peasant risings everywhere.

LANDIS READY TO QUIT BENCH IF CENSURED

"There is a method by which a federal judge may be removed from office if he is unsatisfactory, and that is by impeachment. But they will never impeach me. If both houses of congress by a majority vote pass a resolution expressing disappointment at my attempt to benefit 10,000,000 persons who have a whole hearted interest in baseball, I will send my resignation as a federal judge to Washington by telegram."

In the above language Federal Judge Landis expressed his long ago last December his attitude toward efforts which even then were being made in congress to censure him for his acceptance of the position of arbiter of professional baseball at a salary of $42,500 a year.

Refers Reporters to Speech.

Yesterday the house judiciary committee reported that the judge's conduct seemingly had been improper, but left the task of determining the propriety of pressing impeachment charges, preferred by Representative Volstead of Ohio, to the next congress.

Judge Landis refused to discuss the action of the judiciary committee last night, but alluded to his position as outlined last December. He was asked whether it had changed and said it hadn't.

The remarks referred to were made before the Missouri Bar association at the Hotel Statler in St. Louis on Dec. 4 and were repeated in an address at Louisville.

FULL INQUIRY URGED.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 2.—[Special.]—Full investigation by the new congress of the impeachment charges against Federal Judge K. M. Landis at Chicago was recommended to the house today by the house judiciary committee.

The charges were filed by Representative Volstead of Ohio because the judge became arbiter of professional baseball at $42,500 a year.

The committee report says the judge's acceptance of the employment, "if proved, is in their opinion at least inconsistent with the full and adequate performance of the duty of United States district judge, and that said act would constitute a serious impropriety on the part of the judge."

Volstead Upholds Landis.

Chairman Volstead in a minority report filed tonight disagreed with the majority.

"If the judge is guilty as charged in the impeachment made by Representative Volstead, the judiciary committee should say so, and if he is innocent the committee should so declare," Volstead said. "To carry these charges against the judge over to the new congress tends to disparage his reputation before the public, and to weaken him in his administration of justice."

Volstead declared that in his opinion there was not a single member of the committee on the evidence before it who would vote to impeach Judge Landis of "high crimes and misdemeanors."

Senator Dial of South Carolina made an effort today to bring up his bill to prevent federal judges from accepting compensation from outside sources. Favorable action on the measure was recommended by the senate judiciary committee.

FOCH FORGETS AND BRITISH KING WAITS AS TEA GETS COLD

LONDON, March 2.—How Marshal Foch forgot an engagement to tea with the king at Buckingham palace became known tonight. The king was anxious to see Marshal Foch and M. Briand, the French premier, arranged an engagement for the marshal for yesterday.

The king waited half an hour after the appointed time and then sent an enquiry to inquire.

The marshal was obliged to excuse himself because of complete forgetfulness in his preoccupation over grave conference matters.

DRUGGIST SHOT AS HE RUSHES TOWARD ROBBER

Gustave W. Herzberg, druggist at 5501 North Clark street, was shot by a robber last night.

He is in a critical condition at the Ravenswood hospital.

Mrs. M. R. Carpenter of 1424 Balmoral avenue and Mrs. Frank Porter of 1424 Balmoral avenue had just eaten some ice cream when the robber entered. The clerk, Arthur Johnson, 1652 Hollywood ave., was talking to his cousin, Elmer C. Anderson, who lives with him. They were behind the counter. The holdup man flourished a revolver.

Herzberg rushed from the rear of the store and surprised the bandit as he was about to rifle the cash register. The robber fled. As the druggist fell the robber emptied the cash drawer and fled.

A man in an auto stopped Joseph Gabalowitz, a great lake sailor, about 9 a. m. and told him he was going to drive to the north side and "stick up a drug store." He wanted a "lookout." The sailor declined and then reported the conversation to the police.

Take Rail Strike Vote; Test for Wages Award

Cincinnati, O., March 2.—A strike vote has been taken by all of the sixteen crafts and the stage is set for a walkout on the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad. It was said tonight at the international headquarters in Cincinnati of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, Freight Handlers, Express and Station employees. Whether the workers will go off the job will depend on word from Chicago, where Grand President E. H. Fitzgerald and the grand chiefs of other organizations are appearing before the railroad labor board. What is done in the case of the A. B. and A. will set a precedent that will be applicable probably to every railroad in the United States, it was said.

First to Go Over Falls; Woman Now in Poorhouse

Niagara Falls, N. Y., March 2.—Mrs. Annie Edson Taylor, the first person and the only woman to go over Niagara Falls and live, today is in the Niagara county infirmary in Lockport—old, nearly blind, and without friends.

Steal $2,000 in Smokes from United Stores Truck

Cigars and cigarettes valued at $2,000 were stolen from a United Cigar Stores automobile truck standing in front of the company's warehouse, 1435 West Fifteenth street, yesterday afternoon by four armed automobile bandits.

ALLIED ARMIES SET FOR DRIVE INTO GERMANY

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

LONDON, March 2.—Great Britain, France, and Belgium are in full agreement that Germany's counter proposals are entirely unacceptable and that the three nations shall cooperate in military steps to force payment by the Berlin government of the demands contained in the Paris accord.

This decision was reached after an entire day of conferences and it was not until evening that Prime Minister Lloyd George was won over to this French demand for the use of armed force against Germany.

The exact extent of British cooperation in military action was not learned, but it is known that Mr. Lloyd George consented to participate in the occupation of Mannheim and of the Ruhr basin coal handling ports on the Rhine.

It was stated by a French officer that French long range guns already have been moved forward to a position from which they command the city of Essen, the home of the great Krupp factories.

Germans Get Reply Today.

The German delegates have been summoned to St. James palace at noon tomorrow to hear the allied decision, and it is expected that Mr. Lloyd George as spokesman for the allied supreme council will make an important speech setting forth the allied viewpoint and warning the Germans of the consequences of persistence in their "impudent defiance."

Dr. Schroeder, the German finance secretary, who told me last night that Germany had spoken her last word and could do no more, executed an about face tonight and, after reading an outline of the allied decision, declared that the Germans had been misunderstood and that they never intended their proposals as the last word, but were willing to discuss all points with a sincere desire to arrive at an agreement.

According to Dr. Schroeder the real point of difference is Berlin's claim that Germany is entitled to take into account against the sum due for reparations the value of property already advanced by the allies or ceded to them.

"Surely that is a reasonable attitude," said Dr. Schroeder tonight, "and at any rate, if the allies take the opposite view, we are ready to discuss this point with them."

Germans Still Hopeful.

From another member of the German delegation I learn that the Germans are expecting to go home in a day or two, but are hopeful that they may return soon. They expect a stern refusal tomorrow for reasons of allied domestic politics, but they hope a new and more submarine spirit may win a chance to modify the proposals.

It is reported tonight that the Italians are uneasy about the extreme attitude of the French and British.

THINK ALLIES BLUFFING

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

BERLIN, March 2.—While some Germans are asking whether the entente really will march into the Ruhr district and occupy further German soil and others are remarking that they wouldn't be surprised to awake some morning and find fifty additional miles of territory in allied hands and the British fleet blockading Hamburg, the majority believe Mr. Lloyd George and Marshal Foch's threats are partly bluff.

TRAIL OF RUM IN ZIEGLER MURDER TRACED BY U. S.

Mrs. Orthwein Freed on $25,000 Bond.

Mrs. Cora O'Connor Orthwein, self-admitted slayer of Herbert P. Ziegler, last night advanced another reason for killing the man she "loved."

Her new defense is "irresponsibility from booze."

"I went home from the Green Mill Gardens and drank all the gin I could," she said. "It heated my blood, crazed me. And when he tried to get to me, I killed him. God knows I didn't intend to hit him—and when I realized what I had done it spewed me instantly."

Freed on $25,000 Bond.

Mrs. Orthwein went back to her apartment at 518 Surf street yesterday afternoon, free on $25,000 bond signed by Harry Branstetter, president of the Kiesel Kar Automobile company, 2556 South Wabash avenue. When arraigned in Sheffield avenue court before Judge Burras on a charge of murder, she had pleaded not guilty, and the case was continued until March 10, pending the conclusion of the coroner's inquest.

A double inquiry was begun to learn the source of the liquor found in Mrs. Orthwein's apartment after the killing and the source also of the gin rickies imbibed by Ziegler, Mrs. Orthwein, and Miss Viola Dockery at the Green Mill Gardens preceding the murder.

One investigation is being made by Chief Prohibition Enforcement Officer Frank D. Richardson, who delegated Elliott Evans, his assistant, and a dozen operatives to the task. All witnesses to the killing and the preceding events were questioned. One of these witnesses, Miss Viola Dockery, 227 Barry avenue, is said to have admitted that she had taken gin to the Green Mill Gardens.

Fitzmorris Also Acts.

The second inquiry was directed by Chief Fitzmorris. He instructed Capt. Max Nothbar of the Summerdale station to submit a report of the circumstances which led to the shooting of Ziegler, especially concerning the quarrel between the tire man and Mrs. Orthwein which occurred in the Green Mill Gardens. Evidence already produced shows the quarrel happened about 1 o'clock—the supposed closing hour.

Chief Fitzmorris said a few days before the killing he had instructed Capt. Nothbar to see that the manager of the gardens complied strictly with the 1 o'clock closing ordinance.

While in detention home No. 1 yesterday Mrs. Orthwein was questioned by Federal Officer Evans concerning the case of gin and champagne found in a closet of her apartment. She was asked to produce a bill of sale for them. She refused, although she was warned that refusal might subject her to arrest on a charge of violating the prohibition statutes.

Cafes Warned by U. S.

The federal prohibition authorities sent a letter to all cafes and cabarets, warning them they would be held responsible for all liquor brought into their places by their patrons. A similar letter was sent out several months ago.

District Attorney Cline announced he would vigorously prosecute the proprietors of the Green Mill and Rainbow gardens if sufficient evidence can be obtained.

Farwell Writes to Mayor.

Arthur Burrage Farwell, president of the Chicago Law and Order league, yesterday made public a letter addressed as follows:

"Second Open Letter to Mayor Thompson and Chief Fitzmorris.

"Illegal selling of intoxicating liquor."

"Murder—Eighteenth amendment."

In the letter Mr. Farwell calls attention to statement of witnesses that liquor was sold in the Green Mill gardens when the Ziegler party was present. He also cites the recent killing in the Little Bohemia.

"Who is to be blamed for these deaths?" the letter asks.

Seek Mysterious Blonde.

Police investigating the Ziegler killing were last night looking for a mysterious blonde who accompanied Ziegler to the Rainbow gardens, danced with him and kissed him.

A blonde young woman who gave the name of Ethel Brown and refused to answer questions was taken to the county hospital suffering from bichloride of mercury poisoning. She had been found by a girl friend, who gave the name of Elizabeth Sheehan, 2651 West Madison street, in front of 2912 West Washington street. Police believe it possible that she may be the woman wanted.

Mrs. Orthwein last night scouted rumors that her jealousy might have been the underlying motive for the killing.

Just Boozie, She Says.

"It was booze," she insisted. "If it hadn't been for booze things wouldn't have turned out this way."

Mrs. Orthwein was far more composed yesterday than she had been previously. She answered in a calm voice the questions put to her by Judge Burras during her arraignment. The nervous gestures that had marked her during the inquest of the day before had disappeared. The worn and haggard look, however, was still present.

GIRL OF 18 NEEDS $10,000 YEAR; GETS IT FROM COURT

New York, March 2.—[Special.]—Surrogate Foley agrees with Mrs. Elsie G. Latham, widow of John C. Latham, that an 18 year old girl needs $10,000 a year.

Mrs. Latham, who applied on behalf of her daughter, Alice, said her late husband, who was a member of the banking firm of Latham, Alexander & Co. of 16 Wall street, left his daughter a trust fund of $200,000. Under the will the girl could only enjoy the income from this fund until she reached the age of 35. Under a court order $4,000 a year was granted her.

To prove her contention that the $4,000 was not sufficient Mrs. Latham submitted the following list of contemplated expenses for the coming year:

For traveling expenses to Europe, $5,000

For tuition and incidentals, $2,500

For vocal training, $500

For instrumental training, $500

For fur coat and other wearing apparel, $1,000

For traveling expenses here, $2,000

SOME STAGES IN THE DESCENDING CAREER OF MRS. ORTHWEIN

The school girl of 1899, flirting with the "home town" star from the baseball grand stand.

The wife of 1897, who has seen the night life of a small town, but to whom liquor is yet distasteful.

Mrs. Orthwein as she appeared in a photograph taken in 1900, when she was still the wife of "Jack" O'Connor, baseball player, but had already been introduced to the "night life."

The woman of 1915, twice divorced, living on the alimony from her millionaire husband going the pace in New York, but beginning to long for thrills which the familiar night life can no longer afford, her beauty no longer natural, but still attractive to many men of certain type.

Mrs. Orthwein as Chicago knew her first, still preserving much of her beauty, from a photograph taken at the time when she first met Herbert P. Ziegler, who was to become her victim.

The woman of today, with nothing left but regrets, fighting for her life on the plea that the traveler on the crimson path who loses sense in the drunken lust to kill is excusable in the eyes of the law.

N. U. PIED PIPER LURES DEAN INTO O. K. ON TODDLE

The toddle step, that latest dance craze, is no longer under the ban of the faculty at Northwestern university. Coeds, students, and instructors can now dance in public, and today its devotees are thanking their liberator, Jimmie Cudwell, the original "jazz boy" of the university.

For, it is recounted, Jimmie braved the displeasure of the faculty and scholarship committee at recent campus dance and played the entrancing "blues" of the toddle on his saxophone. Dean Roy C. Flickinger, who has been uncompromising in his opposition to the dance, was unable to resist the music and seized a partner. Four hundred surprised students fell back in admiration and watched the gyrations of the dean and his partner. Jimmie played faster and faster. Finally the dean stopped and panted, "Well, that's some dance. I guess it's O. K."

Mrs. Latham, who applied on behalf of her daughter, Alice, said her late husband, who was a member of the banking firm of Latham, Alexander & Co. of 16 Wall street, left his daughter a trust fund of $200,000. Under the will the girl could only enjoy the income from this fund until she reached the age of 35. Under a court order $4,000 a year was granted her.

To prove her contention that the $4,000 was not sufficient Mrs. Latham submitted the following list of contemplated expenses for the coming year:

For traveling expenses to Europe, $5,000

For tuition and incidentals, $2,500

For vocal training, $500

For instrumental training, $500

For fur coat and other wearing apparel, $1,000

For traveling expenses here, $2,000

LOOP CROWD SEES CHASE OF WOMAN AS CHECK FORGER

Used Prominent Names in Smartest Shops.

Hundreds of loop shoppers yesterday witnessed a pursuit in State street which led to the capture of a fashionable dressed woman of aristocratic bearing. She is charged with forging the names of prominent Chicagoans to checks. At the Harrison street station annex she declined to disclose her identity.

Among the names are those of Mrs. J. Ogden Armour, Fred W. Upham, Harold F. McCormick, Edward Hines, and Health Commissioner John Dill Robertson. She patronized only the smartest shops and the leading banks.

Frank L. Haskell, proprietor of a trunk store at 67 East Lake street, who had cashed a $40 check Tuesday, caused her arrest. Haskell passed her yesterday at State and Madison streets. He asked a policeman to arrest her. The policeman refused to do it without a warrant.

Traffic Policeman Arrests Her.

Haskell followed the woman to State and Adams streets, where she recognized him and attempted to lose herself in the crowd. Haskell appealed to Traffic Policeman Carl Lowing, who arrested her.

She said she was Mary Livermore and that she lived in Highland Park. She indignantly protested her arrest. Later, when a number of persons had identified her, she refused to talk.

She is 68 years old, she told Police Matron Robinson, and was educated in two colleges in the United States and finished her education in a European university. Her right name is said to be Lucy Hines, and an attorney said she had formerly been a court reporter.

Gets About $500 on Checks.

Altogether she cashed about $500 in worthless checks. Some of the victims were the Bryden Art galleries, 217 South Wabash avenue; the Artists' guild, 516 Fine Arts building, and the Regal Shoe company.

FLYER'S WIFE, ASKING DIVORCE, LETS GIRL SPEAK

New York, March 2.—[Special.]—Mrs. Marie Louise Acosta, wife of Bertram B. Acosta, the first man to pilot an all steel biplane across the continent, has sued for divorce. An exhibit was a letter from Miss Hilda Dodge, 16, of Sacramento, Cal., dated July 10, saying: "I am to be the mother of a baby without a name, and surely some day my darling baby and I will meet you face to face. Then you must suffer as we have."

The wife says her husband was arrested in California because of that case, but the girl would not prosecute.

"For She's a Jolly Good Fellow"

Here's to the fellow who grips your hand

In the living way you know—

Here's to the one who slaps your back

While the sparkling highballs flow.

—Excerpt from a poem in the handwriting of Mrs. Cora O'Connor Orthwein.

In olden days a "Good Fellow"—in that social borderland between the upper world and the under world—meant a princely entertainer, a buyer of sparkling wines, a traveler on the primrose path where days begin at twilight and end at dawn.

Mrs. Cora Orthwein, hailed as a "queen" in half a dozen cities, was a "good fellow."

In the history of Mrs. Orthwein's life—taking it from the moment when as a 16 year old girl she flirted from the baseball grandstand with the star pitcher of the home town team—one finds every milestone on the smooth beaten path to downfall and disgrace which for years has been traced to the younger generation in homes and in Sunday schools.

First, there is the innocence of girlhood and the realization that she is beautiful. She is 16.

"Jack" O'Connor, 27, brilliant player in the big time league, catches her eye. They are introduced and soon are married.

"In 1905 we went to St. Louis," she says. Her husband had many friends in sporting circles to whom he introduced his charming wife. They bought her wine and, later, heavier liquors. "I didn't like the taste of it at first," she says, "and then it grew upon me," she avers. "I wanted more and more—it made me forget some of the humiliation he put me to when we were together."

Then came Ralph Orthwein, young, good looking, wealthy, suave. The next step on the road was greased by gossip. Tales told in whispers went the rounds. Husband O'Connor heard them one day, and paid attention. He found his wife and Orthwein in a vineyard.

O'Connor went to court; got his decree. He named Orthwein, Orthwein's wife followed with a suit, and was freed also. Orthwein and Cora O'Connor were married.

The night life—with the additional wealth Orthwein provided—went on a more sumptuous scale.

Then Orthwein, tiring, asked his freedom. He got it. She got $15,000 and $250 a month alimony. And St. Louis knew her not. There were brighter lights—New York.

From marriage to a la statue she progressed to marriage to a la carte. Both tired her quickly. Senses grew dull under a satiety of booze. Even the bright lights grew tiresome at times. She came to Chicago.

"Then I met Herbert Ziegler—I gave him all I had," she moans. "And now I've killed him."

He was 38. She was 49. He tired of her—and met another woman. She heard of it—again the gossip enters.

"I went home and I drank gin till I could drink no more," she weeps. "It fired me, inflamed me, made me crazy. I didn't know what I was doing."

That's her defense. She will plead that the traveler on the primrose path who loses sense in the drunken lust to kill is excusable in the eyes of the law.

HUGO STINNES USES LOCKOUT AGAINST 2,000

BERLIN, March 2.—Hugo Stinnes, Germany's coal and shipping magnate, locked out today 2,000 workmen who refused to launch the latest Stinnes ship yesterday because it was christened the "Thiriz."

The steamer, which bears the same name as the North German Lloyd liner delivered to Great Britain recently, remained on the ways, but because Stinnes, Admiral Thiriz, and many other notables had gathered at Flensburg harbor, the christening ceremony was held.

BEGINS FIGHT TO WED PARIS LOVE OF MARRIED SON

New York, March 2.—[Special.]—Henry George Depepe reached Ellis island today, prepared to keep his promise to wed Mme. Julie Vennet, the French woman who was divorced by her husband following a romance with Depepe's son, Lieut. Arlington Depepe, A. E. F.

"I met her in Paris, and many other notables had gathered at Flensburg harbor, the christening ceremony was held.

A bottle of champagne was broken over the bows and Stinnes, in his address, declared the ship might be considered launched. The company is now seeking workmen who will actually launch the vessel.

The fight between the workmen and their employer began last week when Stinnes launched a steamer named the Hindenburg. The workmen grumbled, but went about their work. However, when Stinnes, speaking at the launching, announced that a future steamer would be named the Ludendorff the workmen shouted they would refuse to launch it.

Depepe appeared vexed because Mme. Vennet had said that her affair with Lieut. Depepe had led to her divorce. The immigration authorities then asked him:

"In view of this, do you still wish to make her your wife?"

"Yes," replied Depepe. "Boys will be boys, and it is only right to forgive."

But the authorities again denied Mme. Vennet admission. Depepe appealed to Washington.

"I am going to fight this thing to a finish," he said. "I am an American born and bred. I hold American ideas about a square deal for a woman. I have given this woman my word that I would marry her, and I will."

But They Call Police.

"Praise God, there's a sinner amongst us," someone shouted. Another disciple slipped out the back door and called the Fifth street police. Officer Charles Gleason responded.

At the station the Rev. Alexander E. McKibbin of the little church explained the situation to Rydell.

Berry swapped coats, breathed a sigh of relief, and was turned loose.

"Hootch?" he remarked. "Never again!"

Earrings, Finds $2,000

Ann Arbor, Mich., March 2.—Howard Fellows, a U. of M. freshman, from Lyons, N. Y., was "broke" yesterday and had to have $2 for theater tickets and a box of candy. He took two old fashioned earrings which he had carried for luck to a local jeweler and asked "how much?"

The jeweler recognized them as ball earrings, the front of which unscrewed, uncovering a jewel. The jeweler disclosed a two carat blue white diamond in each earring. Each stone was valued at $1,000. Neither Fellows nor anyone of his family knew where was any value to the earrings.

HOOTCH, CHURCH, PINCH, IN HIS CROWDED HOUR

Private Stock Cause of Ash-Shifter's Woe.

Sifting ashes, going to church, being arrested, and freed all in an hour's time is no fun, if you'll believe Fred Berry of 338 West Twenty-fourth street.

Berry is a friend of Oscar Rydell, son of John J. Rydell, millionaire clothier. The younger Rydell asked Berry to sift the ashes in the Rydell home at 4905 Grand boulevard. Berry agreed.

Half way through the operation, Berry stumbled on Rydell's private stock. He not only stumbled, but he fell—and fell hard.

Song in His Heart.

After the ashes were sifted, Berry, with no cares on his soul and a song in his heart, went upstairs to get his overcoat. The hall was dark and Berry didn't notice it, but he walked out with Rydell's new $100 coat.

On Forty-ninth street Berry discovered his mistake. He walked to Dearborn street, and on the corner he noticed a little sign. It said:

"Avenue Baptist church. All ye who are sinners come in and be cleansed."

Berry walked inside. Wednesday night prayer meeting was in progress and the congregation of a hundred colored men and women were praying. Berry announced:

"I stole an overcoat."

But They Call Police.

WASHINGTON NEWS

—IN BRIEF—

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 2.

Senator Harding will arrive tomorrow for his inauguration and begin at once conferences with congress leaders on administration policies.

The state department made public the reply from the league of nations, inviting the United States to send representatives to discuss class A and B mandates before they are determined and stating that the American protest concerning Yap should be directed to the allied powers over whose action in awarding Yap to Japan the league council has no jurisdiction.

Full investigation by the next congress of the impeachment charges against Judge Landis was recommended today by the house judiciary committee, which denounced as a serious impropriety the action of the judge in accepting the office of baseball arbiter.

The Walsh committee of the house which has been investigating expenditures of the shipping board recommended that functions of the board be transferred to an executive department.

Mrs. Coolidge, wife of the vice president, spent her second day in Washington being photographed and making hosts of new friends at the capital.

Senate passes conference report for army of 156,682 men; victory for house; deadlock on navy bill.

From Sand to Lenses

You can take a handful of sand and soda, melt it, let it cool, pick it up and see through it.

Not only that, but by shaping it properly into a lens, or a series of them, you can see things through it that would otherwise be invisible.

Stars, for instance; Jupiter's moons; comets and nebulae; ships far at sea, and other distant objects. Animalcula, cells in plants, crystals in minerals, and other tiny and important things.

Letters on the page, lines in drawings, faces of friends that many could not enjoy seeing without spectacles.

There are many steps of course, between the handful of sand and the finished lens. We are going to speak of some of them in this series of advertisements.

CHAMP CLARK IS SPEAKER AGAIN AS LIFE PASSES

Puts Question as His Last Words.

Washington, D. C., March 2.—[Special.]—The house and senate were busy today, rushing votes, clearing up debates—full of noise and activity. In a room of a hotel, within the shadow of the capitol, Champ Clark, Democrat, again fancying himself speaker of the house, said in his delirium, "The question is on the adoption of the conference report." A little while later he died as his family watched at his bedside. They had been his only audience, but his mind was working over those eight years when he was speaker of the house.

"Champ Clark," Uncle Joe Cannon said, when he heard the news, "died in the harness as I believe he preferred to die. Champ was my friend and colleague for more than a quarter of a century. We engaged in many contests on the floor without alienating our friendship or respect for each other. We did not strike below the belt."

Tribute from Former Rival.
That was the tribute from the man whom Clark had succeeded in 1911 as speaker of the house after a fight, from which arose those "insurgent Republicans," later the nucleus of the Progressive party.

Word of Mr. Clark's death was flashed to Rep. Rucker of Missouri, who, with a brief eulogy, announced it to the house. Rep. Modell, Republican leader, moved half an hour adjournment. It was carried at once. When the house reconvened its first business was the voting to elect Mr. Clark of her husband's salary for a year. The house later voted to set aside an hour tomorrow night for eulogy of Mr. Clark.

Mr. Clark was on the verge of retirement to private life, when he was taken ill Feb. 15. He had been defeated for reelection in the Republican landslide which swept in Warren G. Harding, Calvin Coolidge, a Republican house and senate.

Clark Put Work First.
It had been the wish of Mr. Clark that public business be not disturbed by his death, and the senate heard the news of the death, and did not halt its work. On Saturday, however, the day after the inauguration, Mr. Clark's body will lie in state in the house, and at about 10:30 members of both houses will attend. The president and his cabinet, the president elect, vice president elect, the members of the Supreme court, Gen. Pershing, the chief of naval operations, members elect of congress, are to be invited to the service.

The body then will be taken, accompanied by the family and congressional committee, to some place in Missouri, where it will lie in state. The burial will be at Bowling Green, Mo., where Mr. Clark had made his home since 1875. With the body will go Mrs. Clark, his widow, his son Bennett, and his daughter, Mrs. James M. Thompson of New Orleans, and her husband.

Mrs. Clark received tonight the following from President Elect Harding: "I am deeply grieved to learn of the death of Mr. Clark. I deeply respected his marked ability and his splendid public service, and had come to hold him in very affectionate personal regard."

Disappointments Are Fresh.
Champ Clark had few political disappointments, and the chief ones were fresh in nature. When the big split came between Roosevelt and Taft in 1912, and the "insurgent Republicans" who had "overthrown Cannonism" in congress became the original Progressives, and named Roosevelt to run against Taft, Clark just missed the Democratic nomination for president.

With a clear majority of nine ballots and a majority on the first twenty-seven at Baltimore, the opposition of William J. Bryan, who said the "interests" backed Clark, added to the two-thirds rule, gave the nomination to Thomas Woodrow Wilson. Clark declined the vice presidency. Then followed the election of the first Democratic president since Cleveland, then a reelection.

Mr. Clark's other defeat was for congress after he had been in one term. The Republicans named Mitchellson Treloar, a teacher of music at Hardin college. In campaigning Clark never was able to recall his opponent's name, but said he would like to live until that man sat in congress. "Don't you know I would be older than Methusalem?" Mr. Clark would ask. But Treloar was elected. That was Mr. Clark's only defeat until the latest landslide.

Shortened His Name.
Before entering congress in 1893 Mr. Clark had reduced his name of James Beauchamp Clark to Champ Clark. He had been a prosecuting attorney of Pike county, Mo., and a member of the legislature. Prior to that, at the age of 23, he had been president of Marshall college. He was an enthusiastic student of Greek. His law training was obtained at the Cincinnati College of Law. Born in Anderson county, Ky., March 7, 1850, he went to Missouri in 1875 and made his home at Bowling Green.

On Dec. 14, 1881, he married Genevieve Bennett of Aux Vasse, Mo. They had four children, two of whom, Champ Jr. and Ann Hamilton, died. Mrs. Clark before her marriage had planned a literary career, but later gave it up, saying: "Literature and politics don't go together. They get after you and you don't tell the truth in one and if you do in the other."

MRS. COOLIDGE QUICKLY MAKES CAPITAL FRIENDS

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

Washington, D. C., March 2.—[Special.]—Mrs. Coolidge, wife of the vice president elect, spent the morning of her second day in Washington in having her photograph taken, her afternoon as the honor guest of Mrs. Marshall at a reception and tea, and both days, quite naturally and unconsciously, in making a warm personal friend of every one she met.

Frank and engaging, cordial and friendly, young, almost girlish in appearance, with soft dark brown hair waved closely about her head, large brown eyes that light up with interest as she talks, and a vividly expressive face, Mrs. Coolidge is entering official life in Washington with a frank interest in it and in the part she is to play therein.

She has no fads or "special interests." She does not play bridge. But she "loves to dance," she likes the theater, except vaudeville, which she "really doesn't care for," and she is fond of music, though she says frankly that she is not sufficiently educated in it to enjoy compositions which are remarkable more for the technique required in their execution than for melody. "I live music that is tuneful," Mrs. Coolidge says.

Socially she has no special plans at present. That situation she is prepared to deal with as it develops. "It has not been my pleasure to entertain a great deal in the past," she said, smiling. "We could not afford it. I am sure I shall enjoy it."

She has brought with her to Washington a charming wardrobe, chosen with the personal cooperation of Mr. Coolidge.

"Does Mr. Coolidge really select all your clothes for you?" his wife was asked, and Mrs. Coolidge laughed out, right.

"Well," she said, her eyes twinkling, "I find him very helpful. I'm afraid he will have less time to go shopping now, and I may have to get along without him."

CITY HALL WINS FIRST ROUND IN JUDICIAL FIGHT
A decision made yesterday by Judge De Young of the Circuit court gave to the Thompson-Lundin forces the first round in the fight for the control of the nominations for judges of the Circuit court this spring. Judge De Young sustained a demurrer filed by the city hall forces to quo warranto proceedings, by which it was sought to question the right of the county clerk, county judge, and state's attorney to act as a reviewing board on judicial nominations. He held that the reviewing board was legally constituted. As two of its three members are Thompson-Lundin men, this would place the right to pass upon which of the two Republican county committees had the right to make Republican judicial nominations in the hands of the Thompson-Lundin organization.

Frederick A. Brown, appointed by Attorney General Brundage to act in the election laws controversy, immediately appealed from the decision of Judge De Young to the Supreme court.

HARDING'S FIRST MOVE WILL BE TOWARDS PEACE

Tariff and Tax Bills Are Next on List.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
Washington, D. C., March 2.—(Special.)—With plans complete for the simplest inauguration in the memory of the oldest inhabitants, President-elect Harding will lose no time in tackling his big job.

The first conference he will hold after his arrival will be with Senator Knox of Pennsylvania, chairman of the inaugural committee and one of the closest advisers of the new president. Senator Knox will frame the resolution restoring peace with Germany which Mr. Harding is understood to desire congress to adopt as one of the first constructive acts of his administration.

Penrose and Fordney Called.
Chairman Penrose of the senate finance committee and Chairman Fordney of the house committee on ways and means have received telegrams from Senator Harding stating that he desires to consult them and other members of the committees on tariff and tax legislation as soon after March 4 as is convenient for them. Other leaders in both houses have received similar communications from the president-elect indicating his desire to lose no time in shaping the policies of his administration in collaboration with the legislative branch of the government. There has been a refreshing experience for legislators accustomed to the aloofness of the executive during the last eight years and is regarded as an earnest of the assertion of Mr. Harding that his will be no "one man administration."

Will Act Deliberately.
The understanding here, however, is that while losing no time in tackling the great problems awaiting him Mr. Harding will proceed with deliberation in definitely determining a course of action on each question. He has informed the leaders at the capitol that before he makes any important decision he wishes to hear the views of the representatives of the people in congress.

The inaugural message is understood to be brief and to be confined to an outline of policies in general terms. Mr. Harding will reserve for his first message to the new congress in April the disclosure of policies in detail.

Will Consider Appointments.
The month intervening between the inauguration and the assembling of the sixty-seventh congress will be devoted by Mr. Harding to consideration not only of policies but the selection of important officials of the administration, including ambassadors, a number of whom are to be named within the next fortnight.

Ahead of the president-elect several more members of the new cabinet reached Washington today, all of them eager to get in touch with the work of the departments they are to direct beginning next Saturday. Among the first to arrive today was Edwin Denby of Michigan, who will be the secretary of the navy.

Secretary Daniels was on the lookout for his successor, who called at the secretary's office shortly after 10 o'clock in the morning. Mr. Daniels greeted Mr. Denby heartily, and together the retiring and incoming naval heads spent several hours talking over the routine of the department.

After his conference with Mr. Daniels, Mr. Denby went to the home of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Charles Denby, where he will make his home temporarily. He will take over the navy department at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Hoover Studies Reports.
Herbert Hoover, the future secretary of commerce, also arrived and spent the day studying reports of the department which were supplied to him by Secretary Alexander. Charles Evans Hughes, who will be Mr. Harding's secretary of state, will arrive tomorrow. Mr. Hughes has arranged to take the oath of office Saturday morning. Bainbridge Colby, the retiring secretary, will meet Mr. Hughes at 10:30 o'clock in his office and after the oath has been administered will present him to officials of the department. Mr. Weeks will take over the war office at 10 o'clock Saturday morning.

Wilson to Participate.
President Wilson, weather conditions permitting, plans to attend the ceremony on the east front of the capitol. He will not attempt to join the procession from the senate after the inauguration of the new vice president. It is planned to have him seated before Mr. Harding arrives to take the oath and deliver his inaugural address. Plans for the inauguration as finally worked out provide that the joint congressional committee shall call on Mr. Harding and Mr. Coolidge at the Willard hotel Friday morning at 10:30 o'clock. At the White House it will pick up President Wilson in time to reach the capitol at 11 o'clock.

Cold and fair weather is the official prediction for inaugural day.

ty years. There was another demonstration as he left the station this evening.

Harding Appreciates Wood.
Mr. Harding expressed appreciation of an address which Gen. Leonard Wood made last night at a Knights Templar ceremony in Marion. Gen. Wood had come to see Mr. Harding about accepting the appointment as governor general of the Philippines. He did not announce a decision and will see Mr. Harding again in Washington, but it is expected he will consider it a duty to take the island appointment.

"Under this government," Gen. Wood told the templars, "we are going to have a foreign policy safe enough for American citizens in Mexico. With a united fleet in the Pacific and international friendliness we will do away with many of the war clouds in that direction. The next administration is to be the administration of more than 100,000,000 people and I call all of you to play your part and let us hope for abiding peace but let us be unafraid."

STATE TO MAKE OWN PROBE OF PORTER WRECK

There will be two official investigations of the wreck at Porter, Ind., in which thirty-seven persons were killed, one by the interstate commerce commission, begun yesterday, and the other by the Indiana state authorities, scheduled to start tomorrow.

The investigators will seek to learn why the Michigan Central, a through fast train, carried the wooden coach in which most of the victims met death, and how the same train supposedly derailed, ran more than 300 feet beyond the crossing before the New York Central crashed into it. Some railroad officials claim the train was derailed and then jumped back on the track, but others ridicule this theory.

The derail at the fatal crossing was the customary 400 feet from where the two roads meet. As far as is known, the Michigan Central is the only train that ever reached the crossing after being derailed.

The state inquiry will be conducted by the five members of the public service commission and Gov. McCray.

SENATE YIELDS TO HOUSE IDEA ON ARMY'S SIZE

Pay Bill Provides for 156,662 Men.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

Washington, D. C., March 2.—(Special.)—The senate shortly before midnight surrendered in its fight for a regular army of 175,000 enlisted men. It agreed, without record vote, to a conference report on the army appropriation bill, fixing the enlisted strength at 156,662 men, a victory for the house.

The senate also agreed to a provision of the conference report surrendering the senate amendment to the appropriation bill giving rank of lieutenant general to Maj. Gen. Liggett and Bulard. Both held that rank in France, Liggett commanding the First and Bulard the Second army in the Argonne. The conference report was a complete victory for the house and was reached suddenly after it had been announced that the conference committee was in hopeless deadlock over the size of the army. The house had refused to accept the senate amendment fixing the enlisted strength at 175,000 and instructed its conferees to insist upon the house provision for 150,000 men.

Breaks Into Filibuster.
The filibuster against the naval bill was in progress when Senator Wade worth brought in the army bill conference report. The senate agreed with out debate. The report was filed in the house and will be agreed to tomorrow.

Whether this agreement will assure an army appropriation bill at this session is doubtful. President Wilson recently vetoed the congressional resolution to limit the size of the army to 175,000 enlisted men. He then said world conditions did not warrant so small an army. Even many of the champions of the smaller army fear this will force the issue of the size of the army into the next congress.

Divided on Navy, Too.
The house appropriated $396,000,000 for the navy. The senate naval affairs committee added $100,000,000. Senator Borah of Idaho is leading a filibuster to restore the house figures. The filibuster threatens to kill the naval bill. Even if the filibuster breaks down, there is little hope the house will agree to the senate increases. Leaders forced the senate to remain in session late again tonight in a vain effort to beat down the opposition to the naval bill. Parliamentary maneuvering of the most intricate nature was resorted to by the filibusters to delay action. Recess finally was taken until 11 a. m. tomorrow with the bill retaining its priority on the calendar.

Many Bills Cleared Up.
Congress within a day and a half of adjournment had cleared its calendar.

WILSON GLAD HIS TERM IS OVER, SAYS HIS STENOGRAPHER

One hundred books of stenographic notes dictated by President Wilson were brought to Chicago yesterday by Charles Swern, the president's private stenographer for the last nine years. This material will be used by Mr. Swern in writing a book. "I have traveled 150,000 miles with the president," said Mr. Swern. "I have taken dictation at his bedside, on shipboard, in the White House, at (Amer. Press Photo.) the peace conference, and on presidential campaign trains. I know him and I love him. In the two administrations he has aged twenty-five years. He is tired and is glad it's over."

The president is a genial man and a tender one—not the austere, autocratic, heartless, selfish man the world pictures him. His shyness is mistaken for aloofness. In a party of friends he is the life of the party. Mr. Swern returned to Chicago to resume his position with the Gregg Publishing company.

Tonight of ten of the thirteen annual supply measures. Among the measures, for which hope had been abandoned, were those proposing "adjusted compensation" for former service men, regulation of cold storage, and the meat and coal industries, $100,000,000 for state road aid, a federal budget system, reappointment in the house, reorganization of the patent office, and many others regarded as of less importance.

The fate of the soldier bonus bill apparently was decided today in the senate. Senator McCumber, Republican, North Dakota, for the finance committee, made formal request for unanimous consent to bring up the measure, but Senator Thomas, Democrat, Colorado, who filed a minority report yesterday opposing it, objected and hope of passage was abandoned.

ALIENIST EYES WANDERER AS JURY IS PICKED

State Acts to Thwart
Insanity Plea.

While Carl Wanderer, Beau Brummel of murderers, fingered his carefully knotted cravat and smoothed his luxuriously pressed trousers in Judge Joseph David's court yesterday, an alienist studied him. The doctor was looking for symptoms of the insanity which is expected to be the basis of Wanderer's defense in the present trial.

The observations, a precautionary move on the part of the prosecution, were made by Dr. W. D. Krohn, alienist, Herman Adler, state criminologist, and H. D. Singer, state alienist, have been assigned by Gov. Small to make an official examination of Wanderer. They will conduct their investigation in the presence of his attorneys, according to an order issued yesterday by the judge.

Four additional jurors were accepted during the day from an extra panel of fifty. But four more jurors are needed and it is believed that they will be chosen today.

Wanderer was sentenced to the penitentiary some time ago for the murder of his young wife and is now facing trial for the killing of a "ragged stranger," whom it is charged he employed to stage a fake holdup.

Judge David spent a large part of the day in outlining the conduct he wants followed by every one connected with the trial. He first instructed the jury not to use in reporting the trial, commenting publicly upon the things they hope to prove and instructed the spectators concerning their conduct in his court.

May Begin Evidence Monday.
If the jury is completed today, it is expected that the trial will be continued until Monday to allow attorneys to formulate their plans.

The jurors accepted yesterday were: Joseph Mueller, 5114 South Kildare avenue; Verli Tabor, 3885 Southport avenue; Isadore Kohn, 1916 Waveland avenue; and William Goeltz, 423 South Euclid avenue, Oak Park.

YALE 'FRAT' ROW INVOLVES RALPH HINES; 3 OTHERS

Accused of Rushing Frosh
Out of Season.

New Haven, Conn., March 2.—(Special.)—Four prominent members of the Yale secret society, the Colony, were tonight recommended for expulsion from college for violating the interfraternity agreement of the Sheffield Scientific school. They are Ralph J. Hines, Chicago; David J. Gibson, Canton City, Colo.; James D. Platt, Portland, Ore.; and Joseph Selover, Cleveland.

The recommendation was made by the interfraternity committee to the faculty of the school and will be acted upon tomorrow. The committee asserted it found the four men entertaining at a feast seven freshmen before the prescribed date when secret society upper class men may "rush" the freshmen.

The chairman of the interfraternity committee which made the report was Thorne Murphy, football and baseball player and son of the late Mike Murphy, Yale's noted coach.

The four men recommended for expulsion insist the incident arose from a misunderstanding and deny they had any intention of violating a college rule. Many undergraduates think the faculty will refuse to recommend expulsion.

Mr. Hines said tonight: "We propose to fight this case to the finish."

Ralph J. Hines is a son of Edward Hines.

COURT UPHOLDS CURTIS' RIGHT TO RESTRICT AGENTS

Philadelphia, Pa., March 2.—The action of the Curtis Publishing company in restricting its district agents to the handling of Curtis publications exclusively was upheld here today by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals.

Judge Joseph Buffington, who prepared the opinion, pointed out the Curtis company employs 1,500 district distributing agents, who wholesale the Curtis publications to about 35,000 news dealers and schoolboy salesmen, and that these distributing agencies were built up solely by the Curtis company, costing it nearly $1,500,000 a year for maintenance.

Since none of this expense was borne by any other publication the Curtis company properly forbade its district distributing agents and schoolboy salesmen handling the magazines and periodicals of competitors, the opinion said.

The decision sets aside an order issued by the federal trade commission on July 21, 1918, which restrained the Curtis company from restricting its district distributing agents to the sale of its own publications.

FIGHT TO LOWER SOUTH'S VOICE IN G. O. P. ON TODAY

Full Committee Will Hear Arguments.

BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.
Washington, D. C., March 2.—[Special.]—The Republican national subcommittee, as a result of its meeting today, decided to make no recommendations concerning the proposed decrease in the number of delegates from the southern states, but to leave the matter to be thrashed out at the meeting of the full committee tomorrow, when a large number of persons will be heard on both sides.

Naturally the members of the south are against the proposal and Henry Lincoln Johnson, national committeeman from Georgia, a Negro, argued against it at the meeting of the subcommittee and will repeat it tomorrow.

Hays Favors Reduction.
Although the subcommittee took no action, it is understood that at least three of its five members, R. B. Howell of Nebraska, Congressman Benjamin Simpson of Virginia, and Will Hays, favor some method of reduction, both to prevent the south from exercising an influence disproportionate to its Republican vote at Republican national conventions and to prevent the quadrennial party scandal over Negro delegates.

Hays to Resign.
No definite action is expected by the Republican national committee tomorrow, but it is likely that the chairman will be directed to call another meeting within sixty days to give the proposal further consideration. It was stated definitely that Mr. Hays will resign at this second meeting.

Elmer Dyer of Washington, former secretary to the late Marcus A. Hanna, and once secretary of the Republican national committee, Joseph Keating, the veteran political leader of Indiana, and John T. Adams, the present vice chairman, were mentioned today among those from whom a successor to Mr. Hays is likely to be chosen.

Transmission cables will have to be installed, however, between La Crosse and Reedsburg (seventy-eight miles), Walworth, Wis., and Harvard, Ill. (twenty miles), and Madison and Champagne (twelve miles).

Two new power plants, one in process of erection at Calumet and the other shortly to be started at Waukegan, will help supply "white coal" to the industries of this important section of the middle west.

JURY ABSOLVES LITTLE BOHEMIA CAFE OWNER

A coroner's jury yesterday exonerated Frank A. Lake, proprietor of the Little Bohemia café at 1723 South Loomis street, of blame for the killing of former Policeman Timothy Mulvihill.

At the inquest, held at the county morgue, Lake pleaded self-defense. He declared that he was standing back of the bar in his café last week when Mulvihill and James J. Keane entered. He said the former policeman walked towards him, firing as he did so. Lake said he then got his own revolver and shot at Mulvihill, killing him.

His story was corroborated by other witnesses. Following the shooting of Mulvihill, Lake's café was closed by the police. Previous failure to shut the place had been the reason for the exchange of letters between Chief Fitzmorris, Mayor Thompson, and A. B. Farwell of the Chicago Law and Order league, who had made complaints concerning the place.

"MY WIFE DIDN'T KILL ME."
Miami, Fla., March 2.—After reading in a newspaper that his wife was being held for his supposed murder, J. C. Goins of Galena, Kas., came to Miami late yesterday to see Mrs. Goins and tell officials he had not been slain.

WILLIAMS QUILTS AS CONTROLLER OF THE CURRENCY

Wilson Deplores Senate "Injustice" in Case.

Washington, D. C., March 2.—John Skelton Williams retired tonight as controller of the currency. In accepting his resignation "with deep and genuine reluctance," President Wilson wrote Mr. Williams that he had been done a "gross injustice" by the way in which the senate banking committee had handled the question of his reconfirmation.

"I can only believe, however," said the president, "that time will disclose the injustice to everybody and that the right verdict will be rendered by opinion, if not by one of the houses of congress."

Parting Shot at Critics.
Mr. Williams' letter of resignation took a parting shot at some of his critics in congress. He charged the "certain senators" who had the power to bring his nomination before the senate had "dodged and evaded ignominiously."

Mr. Williams also wrote that since "the expressed opposition" to his confirmation and prolonged hearings before two senate banking committees virtually had put him, "by implication," under charges, he had felt that he was "entitled to a verdict."

"I have urged and pleaded in vain," he said, "discussion in the open senate or executive session of any objection to my confirmation. My information is that Senator McClellan of Connecticut, chairman of the banking and currency committee, refused to report my case."

because he promised a certain partisan politician, not a member of the senate, that he would not report it."

Mr. Williams said the wide publication of a statement that the banking committee reported against his nomination was "false," and that he would have "welcomed such a report if it had resulted in securing for me a hearing before the senate or the public."

Gary Denies Charges.
New York, March 2.—Denial of charges by former Controller of the Currency Williams that the United States steel corporation prices of its steel and iron products are "excessive and unjustified" was made by Elbert H. Gary, corporation chairman, in a letter to Mr. Williams, given out here late tonight.

Mr. Gary declared that if Mr. Williams meant to criticize the corporation prices and profits in 1917 and 1918 his criticism should have been directed "against the price fixing policy adopted by the government during the years in question."

During the last two years, Mr. Gary pointed out, the steel corporation "could have made larger profits than it did, had it so elected."

"But it limited its efforts in this direction," he added, "to obtaining a return of profits not in excess of what it viewed as a fair and reasonable return on the investment value of its properties and resources. That only this result was reached, I am satisfied can be demonstrated to all fair minded men."

Woman Sues Doctor's Wife for $10,000 for Slander
Hammond, Ind., March 2.—[Special.]—Mrs. Blanche Goodwin of East Chicago, Ind., sued Mrs. Lucy Keller, wife of a Hammond doctor, for $10,000 for alleged slander and defamation of character here today. Mrs. Keller is accused of having said that, while Mrs. Goodwin was in a room in a Hammond hotel, she sat on the lap of a man, not her husband. Mrs. Goodwin filed suit for divorce against her husband, Arthur, last August. The records show she was divorced in Chicago in 1919 from Everett Littler.

Where And When Did The Mistake Occur?

It was reported in Chicago newspapers yesterday that guests of the Lexington Hotel fled to the street in a panic when fire broke out at 2127 S. Michigan Avenue.

The truth of the matter is, that out of 500 guests not more than 10 or 15 knew there was a fire in the vicinity. And instead of adjoining the hotel, as reported, Number 2127 is two doors North.

This building is not occupied by employees of the Lexington Hotel. They are quartered in a separate building at 2129 S. Michigan Avenue.

The Lexington Hotel itself, which was absolutely untouched by fire, is considered by the underwriters as fireproof as human brains and ingenuity can make it. It is built as solid as the Rock of Gibraltar. It is of steel frame construction, and the walls, ceilings and floors of every room are built of hollow tile, set in cement.

Nothing short of a holocaust could ever damage this wonderful building.

Guests are assured every safety and every comfort.

CITY HALL ASKS NEW COMMITTEE ON FINANCES

Would Cut Membership to Nine Aldermen.

The city council finance committee, the most important of the twenty administrative committees, is due for a reshuffle at the hands of the newly elected committee on organization, according to city hall reports.

Administration officials are planning to cut the committee membership from seventeen members to nine and to increase the salaries of the nine from $2,500 to $10,000 a year with the aid of the state legislature.

Other Changes Planned.

Other changes which will be considered by the organization committee are:

- Combination of the local industries, railway terminals, and streets and other committees.
- Elimination of the rule that the judiciary committee shall be composed entirely of lawyers and judges.
- Assignment of election matters to the judiciary committee instead of the revenue, compensation and elections committee, and the creation of a special small committee on redistricting, with Ald. Bowler as chairman.
- Recommendation that the salary of the chairman of the revenue committee, Ald. Cermak, be increased to $7,500, the pay now received by Ald. John A. Robert, chairman of the finance committee.

HOUSTON HIT IN NEW SPEEDWAY HOSPITAL SUIT

William F. Leather and L. K. Leigh, holders of less than $8,000 worth of stock in the old Speedway Park association, now the site of the Speedway hospital, yesterday filed suit in the federal courts against David P. Houston, secretary of the treasury.

They charged that Mr. Houston had acted in collusion with the majority stockholders to buy a fraudulent title to the property and to defraud the fund to improve it. An injunction forbidding the secretary to expend further funds for the erection and completion of the Speedway hospital was asked.

The court was also asked to appoint a receiver for the property and take charge of all the assets, including the hospital building. They declared that the sale of the property had been made without the consent of the smaller stockholders and that the association had been defrauded of more than $1,000,000.

The bill named Edward Hines, the Edward Hines Lumber company, George H. Shank, Frank E. Foster, David F. Reid, former president of the association, Jay P. Pitts, and others as members of the group which had conspired to cloud the title of the property and defraud stockholders.

The suit filed yesterday is one of a number of somewhat similar court actions instituted by the plaintiffs in the state courts. It will come before Judge Alschuler on March 15.

YOUNG CRANE TO DEFEND SELF AT TRIAL TODAY

Herbert P. Crane Jr., son of the Chicago and Lake Geneva millionaire, today will tell in the Sheffield avenue court a story which he expects to clear him of the charge of attacking 13 year old Louise Sturm.

"I shall prove my innocence," said young Crane last night. "That is all I can say now."

Three more witnesses for the state will be placed on the stand today. Among these will be Marie Fischer, 12 years old, school chum of Louise, who was with her in Lincoln park when the attack is alleged to have been made.

TWO TRUNK LINES TO CUT WAGE OF DAY LABORERS

N. Y. Central and D.
L. & W. Act.

New York, March 3.—Two large trunk line railways served notice today that they intended to reduce wages paid their unskilled or common labor, and officials of the Association of Railway Executives declared they had no doubt other carriers soon would take similar steps.

Action was started today by the New York Central and the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railways. Both called representatives of their common labor for conferences. Should they fail to agree, the matter will be referred to the labor board.

Adjustment to lower levels of the pay of common labor employed by carriers was put up to the individual companies

In a letter from the Association of Railway Executives Feb. 22.

Big Four Calls Conference.

Cincinnati, O., March 3.—(Special.)—General Manager E. M. Condon, of the Big Four route, embracing several thousand miles of railroad track in Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, and Ohio, has called a conference of employees for March 11 to consider wage reductions based on reduced living costs. The Evansville, Indianapolis and Terre Haute, Muncie (Ind.) Belt line, Louisville and Jeffersonville, and Cincinnati Northern employees may be called upon to accept reductions.

"Mr. Caruso's fever has abated," Mr. Zirato said; "so much so that he and other members of the family felt that he had experienced the best day and evening since his relapse."

AMERICAN LABOR REFUSES AID TO WORLD UNION

Washington, D. C., March 3.—Severance of all relationship with the International Federation of Trade Unions was practically decided today by the American Federation of Labor's executive council, but final action on the matter was withheld until tomorrow.

The declaration of the American federation on the proposed separation was considered by the executive council, is understood to assert that American labor cannot remain affiliated with the European organization "because of its revolutionary activities," and because it had failed to "recognize the national autonomy of each trade union center."

The system of dues of the International also is declared to place an excessive burden upon the American federation.

The council in its discussions today is understood to have agreed that the federation cannot be brought under the domination of an organization that advocates the use of "revolutionary violence."

COURT REFUSES ARMOUR, SWIFT YARDS SALE PLAN

Washington, D. C., March 3.—(Special.)—Declining to accept the plan of Armour & Co. and Swift & Co. for the disposal of their stockyards' holdings, Justice Stafford of the District Supreme court handed down a ruling today requiring the government and the companies to lay before him on April 11 statements showing the appraised value of the stock and the probable market value at present.

At the same time Justice Stafford accepted the plan of Morris & Co. and Wilson & Co. to turn over "their interests in stockyards, stockyards terminals, and market newspapers to a Washington trust company, to be sold within a year, if possible."

The court also accepted the plan of Cudahy & Co. for the disposal of its stockyards holdings without the services of a trust company.

In declining to acquiesce in the plans of Swift and Armour, Justice Stafford said that it would seem to make it easy for them to retain their ownership for a long period with "too feeble control on the part of the court."

Perfect Frying Results

Good cooks know that proper regulation of heat is essential if perfect frying results are to be secured. They know that this is not possible with ordinary fry pans because they do not spread the heat evenly all over.

Their preference is for the "Wear-Ever" Aluminum Fry Pan because its metal takes the heat quickly and evenly—does not concentrate it in spots.

"Wear-Ever" Aluminum Fry Pans

can be used for many purposes.

For general frying—eggs, potatoes and fritters.

As a deep fat fryer for croquettes and crullers.

It is especially excellent for cooking breaded veal cutlets or other breaded meats which need slow, uniform cooking and are most palatable when cooked without any extra moisture.

"Wear-Ever" Aluminum Fry Pans should not be confused with ordinary aluminum fry pans. There is a difference. "Wear-Ever" Fry Pans are made from hard, thick sheet aluminum which has been subjected to the tremendous pressure of gigantic rolling mills.

Dealers know have "Wear-Ever" Fry Pans in stock.

Sold by Department, Hardware and House Furnishing stores.

Several factors conspire to produce the very choice smoking quality of Van Dyck.

Consider the leaf used in Van Dyck: For the filler, especially selected choice Havana. For the wrapper, the finest of Connecticut shade-grown tobacco. Masters of the cigar craft make Van Dyck.

With this distinguished background of workmanship and leaf, it is easy to see why the verdict "very choice" is given to Van Dyck by men who appreciate the unusual in a cigar.

PETE COES PITCHIN'

UBUQUIT, Ia., March 2.—Guttenberg, Ia., now is a hotbed for White Sox fans, since the town had to bid farewell to "Pete" Jorgensen, or "Professor," as students of the high school called their principal the last four years. He left for a short visit at his home in Kimballtown, Ia., before reporting as a pitching candidate to Manager Gleason of the Sox. Jorgensen was a record as a star pitcher for the Iowa State Teachers' college and Guttenberg's sample club.

BY I. E. SANBORN.

Full of pep and confidence, William Gleason, chief manager of the White Sox, arrived in Chicago yesterday to take charge of the first squad of players who are booked to depart tomorrow night from the La Salle Street station for the training camp in Waukegan, Wis.

The first question that was sprung on Gleason was as to his chances for the coming season. His answer was characteristic:

"Why, I had a pretty good ball team on the bench last year, and with that in reserve, if I pick up anything worth while in the scramble for new talent, we will have a team that will be in the fight for the pennant."

Twenty Set Sail Tomorrow. Twenty of the forty players on the new White Sox roster are expected to make up the first squad of renovated Sox when the train pulls out for the Lake Star state tomorrow night at 6 o'clock. Most of them will be pitchers and catchers, leaving the other twenty of the forty candidates to make a week later.

The players listed for the early get-away are:

Outfielders: Schalk, Lee, Yarnan, Jondard, and Reinhardt; Pitchers: Davenport, Stearns, Folsom, Tress, Roddy, Kiefer, McWeney, Schuster, Morris, Mulrennan, King, Penner, and Frank, and Outfielders: Kiehl.

Manager Gleason will have a week to work out with his battery candidates before the rest of the team floes into Waukegan, and in that time will have a chance to size up the prospects.

Kid Becomes a "Bull Cal." The Sox manager was initiated shortly after his arrival yesterday into the Texas Bull Calves Hunting club, which has a 25,000-acre preserve at College Point, a resort on the Gulf coast just far away from the training camp. J. V. Brasfield of Chicago is president of the club, and has just returned from a visit to the preserve.

All arrangements for the departure of the second squad of Cubs for the Pacific coast were completed yesterday by President Veeck and Secretary Egan, and all except two of the men expected to make the trip reported ready to go.

The men booked for departure at 8 o'clock tonight from the Dearborn Street station are:

Catcher and Young, first basemen: Warner and Kierulff, third basemen: Brown, Kelle, and Wheeler, infielders: Friberg and Bar, utility men: Flick, Twombly, St. An, and Husted, outfielders.

INDICT REPORTER FOR N. Y. STORY OF BASEBALL PROBE

Leonard G. Edwardson, Chicago correspondent of the New York Sun and Herald, was indicted by the grand jury yesterday in connection with statements published in the New York newspaper concerning Chief Justice Charles A. McDonald's work in handling the baseball graft investigation. It is expected the liability of the newspaper will be disposed of fully today with the formal return of any indictments voted.

State's Attorney Crowe called for a grand jury investigation more than a month ago, when an article published in the New York paper was called to his attention. The story, said to have been written by Edwardson, predicted the baseball prosecution probably would be dropped and quoted various attorneys as declaring the state could not prove its case against the indicted players charged with conspiracy to "throw" 1919 world series games for a gambling combine.

Henry A. Berger, former assistant state's attorney and now representing some of the defendants, was quoted as criticizing Judge McDonald's handling of the case. When he saw the article, Mr. Berger wrote Judge McDonald denying he had ever given the interview, and denying most of the statements ascribed to him.

EVERS, WITH WILLOW, DRILLS ROOK HURLERS IN FIELDING TO FIRST

Avalon, Santa Catalina Island, Cal., March 2.—[Special.]—Manager Johnny Evers started intensive skill drills today in the third workout for the Cubs. For an hour he had the young pitchers in the center of the diamond rehearsing the quick throw to first base and prompt work covering that has when the guardian of the station goes out to get a ground ball. Johnny himself did the batting.

Like a Picnic for Percy. Jones reported to Trainer King Brady that he has gained five pounds on three days' toil and he has not loafed on the field either. Jones spent the winter doing heavy work around an oil lease in Texas, so the spring training appeals to him like a picnic.

Evers has a hunch that Jones may develop into a good pitcher, and for that reason is paying attention to him personally. Furr also looks good, working freely and easily.

Today's work in the main was a repetition of that of yesterday, except for the school for pitchers and a longer hike. The squad during the afternoon trudged to the top of a high mountain from which both sides of the island may be seen. They traversed a distance of nine miles, all up and down hill.

During the morning exercises a strong wind came along and tipped over the heavy wooden backstop. Jim Vaughn was bunting in front of it, but escaped the crash when teammates shouted a warning.

In the Wake of the News

PREP ATHLETICS. JUST at a time when efforts are being made to assure annual contests between Chicago and New York schoolboys in various branches of sport, it seems unfortunate that such an incident as the Schurz-Lake View rowdiness should take place.

The facts apparently established indicate that following a game in the Schurz gym across of Schurz students followed the visiting players from the building, two of whom were struck by missiles and injured; that all members of the Lake View team and the coach were jostled or struck. Four Schurz students, under suspension as a result, are members of the football team. Members of football teams are supposed to have learned to control their tempers.

At other times, rival rooting factions have clashed after games, while only last fall Hyde Park, with the approval of its coach, played a "ringer" on an out of town trip.

Even allowing for the "exuberance of youth," a euphemism for irresponsibility and mischievousness, such occurrences indicate that something is wrong with our system of high school sports—that sportsmanship is at a low ebb.

When muckrakers gained the upper hold in collegiate athletics about fifteen years ago and the bitterness of rooters and alumni infected the players, football was curtailed at many Big Ten colleges, abolished at others for a number of years.

We think high school students should be taught to realize visiting teams are their guests—guests to be defeated in honorable combat, if possible, to be sure, but still their guests. Principals should sound this principle to the entire student body in the assembly room, and athletic coaches should instill it even more strongly in their charges.

Otherwise, high school athletics are not worth while, and should be suspended until sanity returns.

$15,000 IS BID FOR CUE MATCH BETWEEN HOPPE AND HOREMANS

New York, March 2.—[Special.]—High finance has entered billiards. Like all other branches of professional sport, one has to speak in the thousands to attract even passing attention. But accustomed as New York is to big figures, something of a furor was created today when Charles Klein, owner of the Strand academy, announced he would put up a purse of $15,000 for a world's championship billiard match between Willie Hoppe and Edouard Horemans. The top prize of $5,000 the offer recently made by a Philadelphia sportsman.

SCHAEFER GAINS ON HOREMANS

New York, March 2.—Remarkable playing tonight by Jake Schaefer in his 18-2 balk line billiard match with Edouard Horemans, Belgian champion, enabled him to out the foreigner player's lead to 14-12 points at the half way mark. The grand totals are: Horemans, 2,400; Schaefer, 2,358.

SCHAEFER RAN 632 BEFORE HOREMANS

The Belgian won the afternoon block, 400 to 246, averaging 44-4-9 to Schaefer's 27-2-9.

NOTES OF THE CUE ROOMS.

August Kleckner, former world's champion, and Leonard Kenney, champion of the Chicago Billiard league, will appear in a three cushion match which will feature ladies' night of the Reynolds club. The match will be staged in Bartlett gymnasium, March 8, at 8 o'clock. Kleckner will play six points and Kenney 50, the prize being a Maroon blanket on which the score of the game will be entered.

Duffy defeated Roberts (55), 35 to 24, in the Class A three cushion tournament at Murray last night, defeating Carl Siedman (42), 52 to 39 in seventy-four innings at Reading's. Capron had a high run of 8, while Stefan's best run was 4. At Sinker & Spokes, Leonard Kenney (50) beat Joe Singer (42), 50 to 33 in eighty-four innings. Kenney had a run of 4, while Singer ran 6. Tonight Freddie plays Daintier at Hart's and Morreu plays Carlin at Schuenemann's.

YANKEES HAVE HOME-RUN BOOKIES

Shoreport, La., March 2.—Another rookie with a leaning toward home runs was uncovered yesterday in the New York Yankee camp. Norman McMullan, infielder from the South Atlantic league, hit three drives over the left field fence.

QUESTIONS THEY ASK.

CHICAGO.—[To the Editor.]—I view of the open winter do you think there would be much chance of catching pickered by casting at this time of the year?

Answer.—You might pick up a stray one if you used natural bait, fished deep, and reeled slowly, but not likely. Several days of bright sunshine may warm the top inch of water in our inland lakes, but the balance of it is colder than if covered with ice. To the angler spring is here when the new tackle catalogues are issued and the shops show new trays of aluring trout flies. To the fish spring is here only when the water now at the bottom swags places with top present surface water—thermal overbrow—and spring gets down seriously to the business of "springing."

Chicago.—[To the Editor.]—I. Are rabbits good to eat at this time of the year? 2. Is it unlawful to shoot carp or pickerel?

Answers.—1. No. 2. Yes.

WOMEN GOLFERS SEEK A PLACE ON U. S. G. A. BOARD

Members of the Women's Western Golf association have announced their intention to appeal for the appointment of a woman as one of the four new members added to the United States Golf association's executive committee by a recent decision of the U. S. G. A.

Representatives of the Western Trans-Mississippi, California, and Intercollegiate associations were chosen by the U. S. G. A. directors as the new members of the executive committee.

Seek Relative Delegates. Leading golfers of the Women's Western association feel that one of these positions should be filled by a woman from the southern, eastern, and western associations, in rotation.

"It is far better to recognize the importance of women in golf than that of college boys," declared Crafts W. Higgins, assistant secretary of the Western Golf association, yesterday. "The ability of women to handle affairs of an association of large geographical size has been demonstrated in the three large sectional golf organizations—the western, southern, and eastern—and it would be timely recognition of women's importance in golf to give one of their major associations representation on the U. S. G. A. board."

Intercollegiate Is Criticized. It would establish a bad precedent to have a representative from an association so loosely organized as the intercollegiate, Higgins declared.

By Mae Tine.

It wasn't so long ago when one just "saw" Monte Blue in pictures. His name wasn't in the cast or anything. But what one saw, one noticed. The fans began to ask: "Who's the tall, dark fellow with the nice eyes?" The producers began putting his name down on the casts. Then they eased him what on the stage would be known as "speaking parts." And now look who's here! Monte Blue, star! And it wasn't a bee stung under lip that made him one, either. Real ability that boy has.

In this picture he is shown as a stalwart mountaineer, and he loves a governor's daughter. A son of his people, he is a leader of them, realizing as they do not the harm their feuds and private vendettas do to the state.

A bill is introduced by his rival—in whose veins runs blood as blue as the governor's own—to disrupt the mountain colonies. Stallard protests, claiming he can control his people. He is almost called upon to prove it by assuming the responsibility for the hanging of his own brother. They make him sheriff—but—

While the best work in the picture is done by Mr. Blue as the gangling and earnest mountaineer, he has most excellent support in Mr. Lyell, Miss Allen, and a cast composed of people who are exceedingly capable. Technically the production is most finished, and the photography is fine.

It's a good bet that you'll enjoy "The Kentuckians."

BY CORINNE LOWE.

NEW YORK.—(Special Correspondence.)—Yes, we are still henna-minded! The moody red-brown which has been attributed for some seasons to millinery, blouses, frocks and wraps is still shown by the smartest designers. For the inevitable crepe de chine gown and hat it is particularly favored, and we show in the accompanying drawing a crepe de chine of this tint which disclaims any need for trimming further than the peculiar design of beaded embroidery that drops from neckline to below the girle. These beads are carried out in green, dark brown, and gray. As, by the way, the crepe de chine employed here is not as it was born. It is the kind with a slight mixture of tussah to which has been applied the term Moroccan crepe.

DORIS BLAKE'S ANSWERS

Not the American Spirit.
"Dear Miss Blake: A young fellow and I are in love with each other, but my people object to my going with him because he is from a common class of people. Both his parents are dead. He is considered a gentleman, not only by me, but by every one. My question is should the sins of parents be held against the children? D. K. S."

Put yourself in the young man's place and ask the question of yourself. Surely, however, neither you nor your parents would catalog the common people as sinners.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Preparing Dried Figs.

The problem in using dried figs in spring cooking is to get them clean. The strings of figs often hang around too long in the shops. They must be carefully inspected for weevils, but above everything else, they must be washed and washed until clean. The first water may be cold and each fig rubbed in it. The next may be either hot or boiling. When the figs are to be steamed for the more perfect freshening of them the hot water will do. After washing figs and then softening with boiling water, so that they may easily be cut, it is well to taste of one. If, when it comes under your nose you get ever so slight a suggestion of a carnosely coated fig dish—which dirty wet figs do have—then it is not clean.

If, after washing well, with good rubbing and then good rinsing, the figs are steamed for twenty or thirty minutes they get sterilized, dirt and all, probably, but you cannot put agreeable flavor into the dirt. A good imitation of pulled figs may be made by steaming steamed figs in a strup for twenty minutes. The cost is but a fraction of the real thing. The thicker the strup the glossier they will be, but they may also be tougher. Half a cup of sugar and a star cooked cloth—which dirty wet figs do have—then it is not clean.

CABINET RULE OF U. S. SHIPS URGED IN HOUSE REPORT

Shipping Board Given a Clean Bill of Health.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

Washington, D. C., March 2.—(Special.)—Transfer of the functions of the shipping board to an executive department is recommended by the Walsh committee of the house in its final report, made public today.

The committee expresses the opinion that what is needed is more centralization of administrative authority than can be had with a large board.

That there has been waste and inefficiency and lack of coordination in the affairs of the shipping board is asserted. Delays took place, it is declared, as a result of mistakes of judgment, lack of supervision, and a desire to speed up and economize results without counting the cost.

"Most Remarkable Achievement."

However, the committee concludes that, considering the program as a whole, "the accomplishments, in the number of ships constructed, the tonnage secured, and the time within which the ships were completed and delivered, constitute the most remarkable achievement in shipbuilding the world has ever seen."

It is declared that evidence taken by the committee shows that American shippers are handicapped by requirements of existing laws.

The committee declares that it found no evidence "to prove that dishonest or fraudulent motives actuated any member of the shipping board or any member of the board of trustees of the Emergency Fleet corporation."

The general trend of the report is that, considering the war emergency and the gigantic undertaking, waste and extravagance were inevitable.

Present Members Commended.

Present members of the board and some of the present officials were commended for having brought about an improvement in conditions.

The nature of the report is such that both Democratic and Republican members of the committee were able to sign it. There was no minority report of any kind. Members of the committee are Walsh of Massachusetts, chairman; Kelly of Michigan, Hadley of Washington, and Foster of Ohio, Republicans, and Steele of Pennsylvania and Connolly of Texas, Democrats.

The committee exonerates Charles M. Schwab and R. W. Bolling, treasurer of the shipping board and brother-in-law of President Wilson, against whom charges were made.

COMMITTEE OF 17 EXPLAINS GRAIN MARKETING PLAN

Two governors and fifty agricultural editors met at the Congress hotel yesterday to hear a detailed explanation of the new marketing plans recently drafted by the Farmers' Grain Marketing Committee of Seventeen. The editors, representing the territory from the great northwest to New York and south to Texas, came on invitation of the committee.

Gov. S. R. McKelvie of Nebraska said he liked the committee's plan because it was unprejudiced, without the element of radicalism, and presented a cure for reaction. He approves of the plan because the men who formulated it recognized the right of property, and they plan to use the existing marketing machinery.

Silk Pillows, Special, $2.75

A BRIGHT touch of color given by a silken Pillow is an effective note in the decorative scheme of any room.

In round or oval shapes these Silk Pillows, trimmed attractively with silk fruit, come in rose, blue, black and gold. These are values seldom found at this low price.

Third Floor, South, State.

From the Tiny Eggs of a Silk Moth

To the Handsome Gown of Today

THIS is the span of the SILK EXHIBITION, now to be viewed in our Silk Section.

Old Japanese and Chinese gowns of past centuries revive the splendor of older Oriental days; while American gowns, belonging to famous women of former generations, bring to the eye the sumptuous days of long ago in our own land.

SILK REELING By Native Japanese Girls

This process of extracting silk from the cocoon, not usually to be seen outside Japan, presented through the courtesy of the National Association of the Raw Silk Industry of Japan, is demonstrated on modern machinery shipped from that country. From 10:30 A. M. to 12:30 P. M., 1:30 to 4:30 P. M.

MAIN SILK SECTION, SECOND FLOOR

The Charm of Dainty Undergarments Is Quite Irresistible

IT used to be that Silk Undergarments were considered a luxury meant only for the more fortunate. Now the dainty silken things are within the price reach of almost everyone, and they are so desirable too. If your taste is for the more tailored styles, you have almost an unlimited assortment from which to choose, or if you prefer the lacy bits of femininity you will find the newest pieces charming.

Silk Undergarments Are Low Priced

CLUNY lace and attractive touches of embroidery effectively trim the crepe de Chine Nightgowns sketched. Specially priced, $6.95. There are other crepe de Chine Nightgowns in tailored style, $3.95.

Sketched is a crepe de Chine Chemise in a number of different styles. The other Chemise sketched is daintily trimmed with lace, crepe Georgette and two toned ribbon, specially priced, $4.95.

Bodice of radium silk sketched is beautifully embroidered, $2.95. At this price there is also a pleasing assortment of crepe de Chine and satin Camisoles.

Habutai Bloomers with hemstitched ruffle, special, $1.95. Wash Satin Bloomers and Crepe de Chine Bloomers, special, $2.95.

Such a Beguiling Negligee

YOU have only to see to covet it, this charming Negligee sketched of soft crepe meteor. A wide plaited ruffle makes a graceful covering for the arms. The Negligee is caught up in an effective draping at one side with a cluster of dainty silk fruit. Attractively priced, $22.50.

This Negligee is but one of a most tempting collection of Teagowns, Negligees and Dressing Gowns.

Brassieres and Corsets

ILLUSTRATED are two new Corsets. At the left in lower left sketch is a Corset which comes in pink silk batiste or silk brocade fabric, substantially boned for the average of stout figure, special, $4.95. The topless Corset of firm pink broche on the right is $6.

Brassiere of pink moire sketched on figure, $1.95. The other Brassiere sketched, of lace, 85c.

If You Need a Silk Petticoat

HERE you will find notable values at most exceptional prices. Plaited frills and narrow ruching make a scalloped bottom to the changeable taffeta Petticoat sketched, special, $5.95.

The other taffeta Petticoat sketched is a straight tailored model. Other attractive styles in satin or taffeta are $4.95 and up.

An Extraordinary Selling of Women's New Spring Blouses

Show Beautiful Styles and Fabrics, $14.75, $18.75 and $21.75

FROM a high class Blouse maker comes a very unusual collection of smart Blouses for finer wear. They are fashioned from lovely chiffons, satins, and crepes Georgette, and are trimmed in many clever ways, including beading and embroidery. Fascinating effects are attained by using colored chiffon of one color over another of contrasting shade. The filmy softness of chiffon and crepes Georgette has a charming Springtime appeal.

Favored among the many styles is the Overblouse, which offers such attractive possibilities. The comprehensive assortment includes high-necked styles as well as the more youthful novelties. Some have gorgeous colorings and elaborate trimmings. The prices will make this Selling an event of unusual importance.

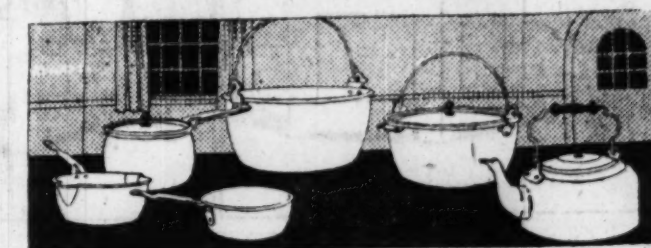

Blouses, Sixth Floor, Middle, State.

DOUBLENE OIL COMPANY BUYS CLEARING PLANT

KING COLE DAY

A breakfast menu will mark today's special luncheon at the Chicago Real Estate board in honor of the completion of thirty years of continuous service to the board of Executive Secretary Herbert A. Cole, more familiarly known as King Cole.

BY AL CHASE

In order to take care of the rapid growth of its business the Doublene Oil company, now at 7500 South Racine avenue, has purchased 50,000 square feet on West Sixty-sixth street, just west of Fifty-seventh avenue, for a reported $20,000. The three buildings on the site will be used for the manufacture of lubricating oil and will be occupied about the middle of the month.

Harry P. Hunter, general agent of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad, was the grantor and Martin Lindsay of Rutter, Lindsay & Co. took title for the company. Paul Steinbrecher & Co. represented all parties.

By 25 Acres Tract

Peter A. Lorenz, president of the Chicago Furnace Supply company, has purchased a fifty-three acre tract adjoining Riverdale, fronting 2,800 feet on the Calumet river and one-half mile on One Hundred and Thirty-fourth street, from Miss Bernice E. Peters for a reported $40,000, subject to $12,500. According to W. K. Young & Bro., brokers in the deal, it was bought for investment, but with an ultimate view of improving with a large plant. Miss Peters bought the property a few weeks ago for an indicated $35,000 from Kenneth Stockton of New York.

The thirty-two flat building in Berteau avenue 165 feet east of Leavitt street, south front, 105x125, has been sold by Louis Heilmann to Clarence A. Anderson for an indicated $115,000, subject to $35,500.

Building Permits

Twenty-eight building permits were issued yesterday, including:

Dorchester av. 5723-5725, three story brick alterations, L. W. Reber, owner; Hyde and Brown, architects; Leland Otterman Co. mason and carpenter.

North av. 1011-1013, 15,000, stores, Morris owner; A. E. Strobel, archt.; Kristens Co. mason and carpenter.

Grand av. 2619-2621, one story garage, Leonard Thompson, owner; J. A. Rutledge, architect; J. O. Johnson, mason.

Wabash av. 1011-1013, 18,000, three story industrial building, Atlas warehouse company, owner; Shattuck & Lauer, architects; R. L. Brodbeck, mason and carpenter.

Christian av. 4000-4004, three story brick, J. W. E. Yeckler, owner; Paul J. Olsen, archt.; H. Meyer, mason and carpenter.

GRAINS ADVANCE SHARPLY UPON STRONG MARKET

BY CHARLES D. MICHAELS.

Strengthening factors dominated the grain markets most of the day with sharply advanced prices due to a covering movement and in response to the news. While top prices were not held, there were gains of 1 1/2c on wheat, 3/4c on corn, 1/2c on oats, 2c on rye, 1 1/2c on barley, and 2c on timothy. Sentiment was more friendly to the buying side, although there was no disposition on the part of the majority of operators to follow the advance very far.

Wheat prices at their best were up 2 1/2c for March, making it $1.70, while May was $1.61 1/2. Top prices called out considerable realizing and selling and the finish was 2 1/2c under the top. Opposition was encountered in March at $1.70 and in May above $1.60.

World's Supply Not Large.

A French estimate of the wheat situation is that the import requirements of countries able to feed themselves are 260,000,000 bu., and the surplus of exporting countries is 235,000,000 bu., leaving a surplus of 75,000,000 bu. in the estimated surplus of the United States.

Foreigners continue to buy wheat in America, with a cargo of Pacific coast wheat to Portugal and small lots of Manitoba wheat to Scandinavia. Italy was said to be bidding for wheat at the Gulf and a small lot would there at 12 1/2c over March, while 14c over bid for twenty day shipment. Green beans were reported in the southwest, but little damage was claimed and crop reports and the weather on the whole were favorable.

Parm Holdings Liberal.

Considerable selling was on, due to a report of 150,000 bu. of Kansas City wheat being sold to come to Chicago. At the same time Kansas City sold wheat to Buffalo millers, while Minneapolis millers bought wheat in Omaha. The latter market also is consigning wheat to Chicago, with the sale of 50,000 bu. here to go to store.

Uneasiness over the strained conditions existing between the allies and Germany was taken as a bullish factor. Supplies an ocean passage increased 5,500,000 bu. for the week to 55,000,000 bu., the increase coming from Australia and Argentina. March wheat was sold by long and by the pit element at 1/2c over May. Lines of March have been reduced of late and the short interest increased during the day.

Better Tone in Corn.

A decrease of 1,265,000 bu. in available stocks of corn, combined with export sales of 200,000 bu. here and 200,000 bu. at the seaboard and the advance in wheat, created a better tone in corn. Prices advanced 1 1/2c, with May up to 7 1/2c and July to 7 3/4c and a close 1/2c from the high point.

An improved trade was on in oats, with commission houses and shorts buying and liberal selling on a bulge of nearly 1c from last night's close. The advance in wheat had a good effect and No. 2 white in the sample market sold at May price of 1/2c under, the strongest of late.

Buying of May rye against sales of wheat, with a few orders for July and light local offerings advanced prices 1/2c for May and 3/4c for July, with the close 1/2c under the top. Exporters bought 5,000 bu. at 22 1/2c over May, track Baltimore.

Provisions Are Erratic.

Packers' operations made an erratic action in the provision market and the close was at losses of 10 1/2c on lard, 2 1/2c on ribs, and 2 1/2c on pork. Hams were in good demand at full prices. An increase of 12,558,000 lbs. in lard stocks

CASH GRAIN NEWS

Export sales of wheat were reported at 200,000 bu. at the Pacific coast to Portugal and small lots of Manitoba wheat to Scandinavia, with 500,000 bu. corn to Europe. Chicago banders sold 500,000 bu. corn to go to the seaboard.

Domestic shipping sales at Chicago were 10,000 bu. wheat, 55,000 bu. corn, and 87,000 bu. oats. There was 50,000 bu. wheat sold to go to store here, and Kansas City sold 150,000 bu. to Chicago.

No change was shown in cash wheat premiums at Chicago. Demand was rather slow. Individual

Cases of

Tax Returns

The general tax regulations lay down all the requirements for all years.

Specific application of various sections depends on individual cases.

Especially, therefore, it is necessary for the individual to know all the conditions in order to determine his own standing.

ly, however, Certified

Accountants solve this problem for their clients by figuring where to find and how to apply the tax regulations that affect specific cases.
